KEEPING YOU CONNECTED

Keeping on Top of Technology

Central office and installer/repair technicians recently attended seminars put on by the WSTCA's Plant Committee. The association, which includes 11 telephone cooperatives in Wisconsin, plans training specific to the needs of its members. Technicians have the opportunity to check out the newest telecommunications products being offered, gain knowledge about changing trends in our industry, and learn installation tips and techniques.

One new product they saw was an electronic photo frame which works like a computer's e-mail inbox. With a High Speed Internet connection, you can download pictures from anywhere in the world!

Give Mom the Star Treatment

Treat her to star-studded entertainment with digital TV

This Mother's Day, roll out the red carpet and give Mom star-studded entertainment with digital cable TV from Richland-Grant Telephone Cooperative. Check out our channel line-up on the reverse side!

She'll love the crystal clear picture and sound. She'll love having access to more than 114 popular channels including Madison and LaCrosse local programming, news, movies, sports, and music channels. And she'll love the option of adding premium channels, High Definition channels, and renting blockbuster movies.

Set the stage for lots of fun for Mom with digital cable TV. For more details on our packages, call us at 537-2461.

Digital cable TV also lets Mom enjoy the role of director thanks to the optional easy-to-use DVR (Digital Video Recorder). She can pause and rewind during live telecasts, as well as record episodes or whole seasons of her favorite programs, and then watch them on her schedule.

Tom Greene Retires from LaValle Telephone's Central Office

Even though Tom Greene is really a LaValle Telephone employee, because of the close working relationship between LaValle Telephone Cooperative and Richland-Grant Telephone Cooperative, Tom has provided his skill and expertise at Richland-Grant Telephone many times. He has shared on-call responsibilities and provided critical backup for Richland-Grant Telephone's central office technicians.

As Central Office Supervisor he has been responsible for the operation and maintenance of the cooperative's switching equipment. Tom has managed three different switches and been a part of 20 major projects which changed services and technologies. He has been working there since 1976, long enough to implement the touch-tone phone system, the emergency 911 system, two CLECs (subsidiary telephone companies), plus the technology leaps into Internet and video. Tom thinks his biggest career challenge was the introduction of the Internet. Back then, not many people even knew what the Internet was, but they wanted it!

Richland-Grant Telephone wishes Tom the very best as he retires! Working with this kind and gentle man has been our pleasure.
